

Get Social is a Black-owned social media agency based in Los Angeles. The clientele is focused on social movements and the implementation of policies, voting rights, and more. All staff are well-endowed in the social justice space, with an overarching scope of voting and registering to vote. New applicants must entail the values of this space and be well endowed with pop and hip-hop culture to tie in both. This position is completely remote (even post-pandemic) and requires a laptop and wifi at home.

The Graphic Design Intern position will include a wide range of miscellaneous tasks to learn social media processes relating to graphic design. The job will entail research, content idea pulls, and organization skills. The position is 3–4 days a week, working 9 AM–5 PM in your time zone. The position is available remotely.

Job requirements:

- Assist Graphic Designer on various projects
- Pull graphic ideas for clients
- Think of rapid response ideas to breaking news.
- Monitor social media on ever-changing trends.
- Manage multiple projects at one time.

Requirements

- Bachelor's Degree or obtaining one.
- Must be a registered voter
- Phone Savvy - apps to edit video edits, familiar with gifs etc.
- In-depth knowledge of current community and social media distribution channels, and the clients' role they play in community and publishing strategy.
- Highly organized, proactive self-starter, deadline-oriented, with demonstrated ability to plan and self-manage concurrent social media pipelines and programs.
- Endowed in political engagement or social justice background

Pluses

- Social Justice knowledge
- Interested in politics
- Knowledge of Asana and Slack

Salary: Monthly stipend of $1,000 with dedicated 3-4 days a week.

Please submit a resume, your favorite social media handle, and your favorite meme to be considered at info@getsocialwithteja.com. More work is available at getsocialwithTeja.com.